Fiction

The Chemist

By Stephanie Meyer

She used to work for the U.S. government, but very few people ever knew that. An expert in her field, she was one of the darkest secrets of an agency so clandestine it doesn't even have a name. And when they decided she was a liability, they came for her without warning. Now, she rarely stays in the same place or uses the same name for long. They've killed the only other person she trusted, but something she knows still poses a threat. They want her dead. Resolving to meet the threat head on, she prepares for the toughest fight of her life

Conclave

By Robert Harris

The Pope is dead. One hundred and eighteen cardinals gather from across the world to elect the next Pope in proceedings steeped in tradition, shrouded in complete secrecy. Millions of the faithful and the interested watch the chimney above the Sistine Chapel for the telling white smoke that would mean a decision has been reached. The cardinals are holy men. But they have ambition. And they have rivals. Over the next seventy-two hours one of them will become the most powerful spiritual figure on Earth.

A Portrait of Emily Price

By Katherine Reay

Visiting from Italy, Chef Benito Vassallo works to breathe new life into his aunt and uncle's faded restaurant. Soon after their first meeting, he works to win over art restorer Emily Price as well—inviting her into his world and his heart. Emily astonishes everyone when she accepts Ben's proposal and follows him home. Instead of allowing Italy to transform her, Emily interferes with everything, alienating Ben's tightly knit family. Only Ben's father, Lucio, gives Emily the understanding she needs to lay down her guard.

Bronx Requiem

By John Clarkson

Paco Johnson spent a lifetime in the system -- starting in juvie at age 10, then prison for most of his adult life. But he managed to make some real friends in prison, friends who helped him get parole, a place to stay, and plans to help him adjust to a life outside prison after seventeen years behind bars. But only seventeen hours after he is released, he is found dead -- murdered -- in the streets of the Bronx. What at first appears to be a simple, if tragic, street killing, quickly becomes something much more difficult and complex.

Valiant Gentlemen: A Novel

By Sabina Murray

Valiant Gentlemen reimagines the lives and intimate friendships of humanitarian and Irish patriot Roger Casement; his closest friend, Herbert Ward; and Ward's extraordinary wife, the Argentinian-American heiress Sarita Sanford. An epic and bold novel of friendship and betrayal set across four continents and a 40-year time span, this is a uniquely human account of some early twentieth century historical figures and the vastly different track their lives take.

Moonglow

By Michael Chabon

Tongue loosened by powerful painkillers, memory stirred by the imminence of death, author Michael Chabon's grandfather shared stories the younger man had never heard before, uncovering bits and pieces of a history long buried and forgotten. It is a tale of madness, of war and adventure, of sex and desire and ordinary love, of existential doubt and model rocketry, of the shining aspirations and demonic underpinnings of American technological accomplishment, and above all, of the destructive impact—and the creative power—of the keeping of secrets and the telling of lies.

Non-Fiction

My Turn

By Johan Cruyff

Johan Cruyff embodied a footballing philosophy that now dominates coaching and playing styles in all the leading club sites around the world. He is undoubtedly the player who single-handedly most changed the nature of the game. Cruyff's lasting influence is in the style of play he epitomized and then applied to the Barcelona and Ajax teams he coached. His vision of "Total Football" transformed the way soccer was played, and its dazzling fluidity became the basis of the most admired sides around the world.

Forever Words

By Johnny Cash

In this collection of poems and song lyrics that have never been published before, we see the world through Johnny Cash's eyes and view his reflection on his own interior reality, his frailties and his strengths alike. In his hallmark voice, he pens verses about love, pain, freedom, and mortality, and expresses insights on culture, his family, his fame, even Christmas. His music is a part of our history, and here the depth of his talent becomes even more evident.

Ray & Joan: The Man Who Made the McDonald's Fortune and the Woman Who Gave it All Away

By Lisa Napoli

Ray & Joan is a tale of corporate intrigue and private passion: a struggling Mad Men-era salesman with a vision for a fast-food franchise that would become one of the world's most enduring brands, and a beautiful woman willing to risk her marriage and her reputation to promote controversial causes that touched her deeply. Together, their two stories form a compelling portrait of the twentieth century: a story of big business, big love, and big giving.

Mindful Moments

By Louise Adams

Most books focus on "surface level" mindfulness and basic skills: breathing exercises, being present, seeing things as they are, and acceptance. These skills are very important and often life-changing; many people report better stress management and a greater sense of peace once they start to use them. What many books don't address, however, is what to do once you've noticed things about yourself that you don't like. Complete with a 30-day plan to help supercharge your life, learn how to set new goals and live your best life possible.

Victoria: The Queen

By Julia Baird

When Victoria was born, in 1819, the world was a very different place. Revolution would begin to threaten many of Europe's monarchies in the coming decades. In Britain, a generation of royals had indulged their whims at the public's expense, and republican sentiment was growing. The Industrial Revolution was transforming the landscape. Born into a world where women were often powerless, during a century roiling with change, Victoria went on to rule the most powerful country on earth with a decisive hand.

Along the Infinite Sea

By Beatrice Williams

Pepper Schuyler's problems are in a class of their own. When Pepper fixes up a beautiful and rare vintage Mercedes and sells it at auction, she thinks she's finally found a way to take care of herself and the baby she carries, the result of an affair with a married politician. But the car's new owner turns out to have secrets of her own, and as mysterious Annabelle Dommerich takes pregnant Pepper under her wing, the startling provenance of the car comes to light. As the many threads of Annabelle's life from World War II stretch out to entangle Pepper in 1960s America, and the father of her unborn baby tracks her down to a remote town in coastal Georgia, the two women must come together to face down the shadows of their complicated pasts.
